

Water Park revamped into Flower Park in Nashik with 6 lakh+ flowering plants

In Nashik, Maharashtra, a water park has been transformed into a floral park. It contains over 6 lakh colourful flowering plants over 25,000 square metres. "We open from November 1 to March. Since water parks are shut across the country, we converted this into a flower park," said Shashikant Jadhav, the owner.

Scented flowers are draped over ten massive heart structures. Flowers have been placed on the rides at the waterpark. 3 colossal peacocks, each with a 20- to 30-foot-long tail are fully covered in flowers. There are over 30 Selfie Points in various shapes and sizes, including Triple Hearts-Big Rectangle Shape Selfie Points, and so on. All of them are flower-covered. Flower Houses, Flower Cars, Flower/Grass Covered Elephants, Horses, and other floral-themed items are available as well.

India re-opens Quarantine-free to vaccinated tourists from 99 countries.

After being shut for 20 months because of the COVID-19, India's borders have just reopened for quarantine-free travel to fully vaccinated foreigners from 99 countries.

In updated guidelines released last week, India laid out a list of 'Category A' countries. Vaccinated travellers entering India from any of these countries on its Category A list are permitted to bypass post-arrival COVID-19 tests and a minimum seven-day quarantine requirement, being instructed only to monitor themselves for symptoms for 14 days following their arrival.

Some of the world's major economies made it onto the Category A list, including the United States, United Kingdom (U.K.), Germany, France, Singapore, Australia and Brazil.

Construction of LEGOLAND theme park begins in Shanghai

Construction work began on LEGOLAND Shanghai Resort. During the ground-breaking ceremony, a giant LEGO brick statue was unveiled as a symbolic gesture of "First Building Block." After the whoops and hollers, bulldozers rumbled into the area to begin work on the international IP-based resort in the Yangtze River Delta area.

The resort, invested by Shanghai Jinshan Urban Construction Investment Group, KIRKBI, Merlin Entertainments and CMC Inc, is set to open to the public in 2024. It will be spread over 318,000 square meters that will include a theme park, a themed hotel and supporting commercial facilities in Fengjing, an ancient watertown in Jinshan District, roughly 70 kilometers away from the city center.

Notably, it will be the first LEGOLAND park to have a famous LEGO product line inspired by a timeless Chinese legend.
